WHEN TO USE ELLIPSIS (...)

WHAT is an Ellipsis?

Ellipses (singular: ellipsis) are a form of punctuation used to indicate excluded wording within a phrase or paragraph, or to indicate a pause in speech. They are most commonly seen as a series of three dots (...) though the exact number varies depending on the context of the quote.

WHEN to Use Ellipses?

(1) To demonstrate omitted material in quotes
Ellipses are commonly used to reduce the length of a quoted paragraph or speech by replacing extraneous information or details with the ellipsis sign (...). Omitted material can include anything from a clause used to multiple sentences.

Worksheet: Ellipsis Exercises

Understanding the Ellipsis

An ellipsis is a series of three dots (...) which shows that some text has been left out. Contrived as it may seem, it is used in paragraphs or at times, in sentences and dialogues, or text from a situation that does not affect the meaning of the quotation.

DIRECTIONS: Read each sentence below. Identify what the ellipsis is used to do in each sentence or in dialogues. Write the correct letter on the line.

A. passage of time B. as a substitute for aught C. text from a quotation

- 1. I really wanted to keep going, but for some reason I didn't ...
- 2. They got up to go to bed ... and sat ... and then someone else showed in ...
- 3. She was frustrated, but she said, "I like him just ... but I just don't know what you're saying."
- 4. The dog ran away ... she sat but didn't ... and we got a hamster.
- 5. "I really want to go," Ann said. "It's just ..."
- 6. According to his advisor, Wyatt Miller, "The contract is probably one of the most important documents in business ... and that is, however, a solid and effective way to do it."
- 7. Among politicians ... is a fairly simple procedure.
- 8. Night came and we closed up ... by the time we were it was too late.
- 9. Climbing is so ... and if there's no good reason for it, is what I mean ...
- 10. The ball sailed into the air ... and there it was, a goalpost for a 50 yard field goal.
